

arXiv.org - Assumed non-exclusive license to distribute

The URI <http://arxiv.org/licenses/assumed-1991-2003/> is used to indicate this assumed license.

Prior to January 2004, there was no explicit license granting/certification as part of the arXiv.org (formerly xxx.lanl.gov) e-print archive submission process. It was assumed that by the intentional action of submission and help pages stating the policies of archival availability of submissions, a license equivalent to <http://arxiv.org/licenses/nonexclusive-distrib/1.0/> was granted by the act of submission. We thus operate arXiv.org on the assumption that for these submissions:

- arXiv.org has a perpetual, non-exclusive license to distribute this article.
- the submitter had the right to grant this license.
- that submissions will not be completely removed once accepted.
- arXiv.org has the right to reclassify any submission.
